Bachmann, Head of General Staff, and Behncke Removed From Important Posts Because They Objected to Modification of Submarine Policy.

LIKABLE SEA DOG NOW IN AUTHORITY

Von Holtzendorff Believes No More Passenger Vessels Will Be Torpedoed Since Commanders Are to Pass Ships When in Doubt.

Associated Press.
BERLIN, by courier to the frontier and London, Sept. 25.-Admiral von Holtzendorff, former commander of the German high seas fleet, now is head of the naval general staff, succeeding Vice Admiral Bachmann. Rear Admiral Berncke, vice chief of the naval general staff, also is out, and it is understood his suc cessor will be Admiral von Kerch, inspector of marine instruction at the naval academy, although this appoint ment is unconfirmed.

The changes, which were made som time ago, took place in connection with the modification of the submarine policy signalized by Ambassador von Bernstorff's declaration at Washington. The displaced Admirals, it is understood, were opposed to the modifications made effective at that time.

The navil general staff in war tin sed to be the all-important ts supposed to be the all-important branch of naval administration. It has charge of all operations of the fleet: directs its strategic plans and disposi tions and issues the orders under all units of the navy-the battle fleet, cruisers, submarines and aircraft-ope In time of peace it was overshad rwed by Admiral von Tirpitz and the Ministry of Marine, owing to the dominant personality of the sea veteran whose name is most closely connected with the development of German *sea

COREY TO RE-ENTER STEEL BUSINESS THROUGH MIDVALE

With Percy A. Rockefeller, Frank A. Vanderlip and Others Acquires Philadelphia Plant.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The Midvale Steel Co. of Philadelphia has formally and a contract has been made whereby the concern is to go to a company to be organized and controlled by William Ellis Corey, Percy A. Rockefeller, Frank A. Vanderlip, Edmund C. Converse and others of high standing in the financial world.

Corey is to return to active work in that industry to which he devoted himself from the age of 16, when he entered the employ of the Edgar Thompson Steel Works in Braddock, Pa., until 1911, when he retired from the presidency of the United States Steel Corporation, after eight years in that of-fice. Since then Corey, although a director of many corporations, had up to the outbreak of the war, spent most in two lifeboats. ner Wall yesterday that the law does not allow a flat rate of 8 cents a thou sand gallons to manufacturers and that under the ordinance a charge of 8 to 30 cents was obligatory. The Counselor declined to say whether he would file suit against Wall and Burton, on their nder-charging of manufacturers.

Commissioner Wall thinks the pro dsion for an 8-cent rate for manuparing an ordinace to revive the old te of 8 cents a thousand gallons will require at least two months for such an ordinance to be passed and go into effect. The Commissioner think it will be all right to col ect the increased rate in the meanime and then allow the manufacturers a rebate after the new ordin ance goes into effect.

Yesterday was the first time that Com correct charge, he says. History, Says Imperial Treasury Secretary.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Sept. 24, via London. Sept. 25.—The German war loan raised Sept. 21 is the largest financial operation in the world's history, said Dr. Karl Helf-ferich, secretary of the imperial treasury, to the Associated Press today.

With a total of 12,000,000,000 marks (31.-000,000,000, and some small sums not yet 000,000,000) and some small sums not yet reported, the secretary said it exceeds Great Britain's last loan, which attracted much attention all over the world as an unprecedented piece of

Dr. Helfferich asserted that Germany was financially able to continue the wa indefinitely. Her people, he said, were earning higher wages and saving more noney than in peace times. The coun try was supplying its own needs and buying little abroad and making no debts

Hays of Webster Groves, $6000-a-year superintendent of the Scul-lin-Gallagher Iron and Steel Co., was flat at 916A Pendleton avenue and a vagrant and one juror was equally positive that he was not.

The result was a mistrial in the prose cution instituted by Hays' wife, Mrs Nella Hays, as one of several sequels to their separation last June.

Douglas P. Lewis of Richmond Heigh's vas the one juror who held out agains liays' conviction as a vagrant. After trial he told a Post-Dispatch reporter that in his opinion Mrs. Hays brought the vagrancy charge against her husband and for the sole purpose of obtaining money from him. He said he did no feel that he could conscien tiously brand Hays as a vagrant in view of the fact that Mrs. Hays had been in possession of the family home since the separation and of the testi-mony that Hays had offered to provide for her elsewhere if she would surrender he home, the title of which is in Hays

Hays' Offers to Wife. Hays testified that after advertisin that he would not be responsible for cers in Webster Groves and told ther e would stand good for any purchase his wife might make. The grocers took the witness stand and verified this asertion. Hays also testified that he of fered money to Mrs. Hays and told her he would pay her expenses at any hotel or boarding house if she would surrender the Webster Groves home to

Mrs. Hays in her testimony yesterday Hays denied that he struck his wife and knocked her down April 18 last when she went to his room to get a newspape for her son by a former marriage. Hays said his wife broke down the door of his room with a hammer and the head of the hammer flew off and cut his arm. He grappled with Mrs. Hays, he said, and both fell to the floor.

Cold Storage Men Jubilant Over the Outlook for St. Louis and the Immediate Vicinity.

ROM every point reports submitted to the Post-Disnasel to the Post-Dispatch concerning food products within the past month or so, the indications are that from now on all of the allied businesse n this connection will show marked

The food product industry in St. Loui and its environs is a material part of the city's general business—just as shoes, hats, meats, etc., are. The reason for this is that St. Louis is a reat big distributing center throughout he West and Southwest, for not only ts own products, but also for those of inhabitants of St. Louis that the food products industry is one of the city's assets. Its apple industry is one food apple in a city's above freight makes at very little above freight makes. big assets. Its apple industry is projobbers, agents and land owners predict that ultimately they will be able to compete with growers from coast to

This optimistic view is taken to mea also that the cold storage plants in the St. Louis zone and throughout Missouri will reap a corresponding benefit.

Numerous men and firms engaged i the cold storage and fruit distributing msiness have been interviewed by Post-Dispatch reporter. The consensu of opinion is that the fall and winter seasons will make up for all lack o trade that has been felt in the past. Quoting from the Anchor Cold Storage following is characterist of the sentiment expressed by other

The suggestion that the Germans may try to collect an indemnity from the United States for the war munitions supplied the allies—if the proposed segregation ordinance, the St. Louis Germans win—is not so foolish as it sounds. GERMANY OVER AMERICA.

In the report of the meeting of the American Truth Society in New York called to protest against the British-French loan we search in vain ing the boat. for one word of comment on the loan from the standpoint of America. Every word uttered was in behalf of Germany and Austria.

The issue was clearly drawn between those who favor the Teutonic allies and those who do not. Every man, every newspaper not actively for Germany and Austria was denounced. The appeal was to German blood and Austrian blood, never o American loyalty.

If every question of business, of finances politics is to be decided solely from the standpoint of German advantage, what becomes of America? If every public man and every newspaper is to be judged solely by his attitude towards the Germano-Austrian alliance, what chance is there for an American who cherishes American rights and interests regardless of foreign interests, to survive?

The loan in question was not condemned be cause it is a bad transaction, or because it is be used against Germany. The fact that it is a ing fulfilled. loan to the enemies of Germany makes it necessary to stop it at any cost to America. That Germany had obtained a loan of $10,000,000 was not how illogical it is to send these shipments over

THE AGGRESSIVE PARTY.

Our unhappy Col. Roosevelt grows more rest ess and aggressive with each hour. Being given "leave to print." as it were, by President Wilson, the Colonel now addresses the country through the subdued medium of a popular magazine.

Probably nobody was ever so displeased with the United States in time of peace or so perfectly loyal to the cause of militarism as this unfortunate Colonel, who wants to start a little row of our own over here right now. As nearly as we can make out, he proposes that our more temperamental German-Americans leave the coun try-get out of here and go home and fight for the Fatherland.

BUSTLING PORT OF NEW ORLEANS.

Sixteen vessels cleared from the port of New Orleans last Saturday and 10 vessels arrived. In the history of the port the greatest number clearing in one day was 17. The Times-Picayune deduces that the summer shipping activity at New Orleans will continue during the fall and winter months and that the prosperity of the United States is of gratifying proportions.

The further deductions to be made as to the Mississippi's utility as a waterway are plain. European ports were the destination of but five of the 16 vessels. One or more vessels left for Cubs. Porto Rico, Mexico, Guatemala, Honduras Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama and the ultimate destination of others was Brazil and the against American interests—that question was Barbadoes. For St. Louis imports and exports, New Orleans has advantages over Atlantic ports. But costly rail routes when the same river waters that sweep by St. Louis will in a few days sweep by to be conducted on the plan advocated by the New Orleans, affording a cheap highway for incoming and outgoing goods. When at least half as many craft clear from St. Louis for New Orleans as of larger craft clearing from New Orleans for foreign ports, our river may truly be said to be about to come into its own.

> > TALKING SPANISH.

It is gratifying to know that the Business Men's League in the matter of securing Latin-American trade has got down to business. It has opened a class for the study of the Spanish language.

No longer will Latin-American trade be sought with dumb gestures, finger work, lip language, blank smiles and puzzled looks; no longer will orders depend upon the interpreter. St. Louis business men, after the "como esta usted, senor" ceremony, will launch into the best classroom Spanish. They will be able to talk about the weather, ask about the family, discourse on hats, coats, collars, shoes and foodstuffs in real Span ish. If they stumble a little over the vernacular the effort will be appreciated by our Latin-American friends and the amenities of South American mercantile transactions will be observed. Perhaps after learning to talk Spanish our accomolished tradesmen may be able to walk Spanish.

Tempo of Dances This Year to Be About the Same as Last - All Movements Have Been So Simplified That Dancers Will Appear to Go Slower, Smoother and Much More Graceful.

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall,

IT'S THE THREE S'S WHICH MUST CHARACTERIZE THE DANCES FOR THE COMING SEASON. THEY ARE TO BE SIMPLE, SANITARY, AND STANDARDIZED.

S o and no otherwise have decided the dancing masters of America, and these are the orthodox dances for all of us in the immediate future: The these are the orthodox dances for all of us in the immediate future: The national fox trot, the Congress onestep, the fox-trot tango, the march militaire, the globe trot, the exposition waltz, the pericon, the syncopated walk, the modern waltz. And here's a tip—the modern waltz, which is practically the "regular" waltz of 10 years ago—will be THE most popular dance during

The dependable man or woman is always in demand by employers or DELIABILITY is always in deman and adds to a man's worth. The demand for reliability never ceases. If you buy a piece of machinery you want it to be deendable. When you purchase new lothes you desire them to be durable. If you elect an official you require that he shall be trustworthy. When you take on an employe you inquire whether he can be relied on, as to his word, his work, his loyalty. It is so in all the relations of life. While there is much unreliability, you never hear of anybody seeking it or placing a premium upon it.

The reliable man is always spoken of n terms of praise. His friends boast that he can be depended upon to do a certain thing under a certain set of cir-cumstances without variableness or cumstances without variableness or shadow of turning. They say they can find him in the dark and can true him with the same faith as in the broad light of day. They refer to him as one whom you can the to. They have no fears that he will either default or betray. He has all the steadness and fidelity of a well-trained plow horse. He may lack brilliance and finish. He may not be a genius. But as far as his abilities go he is as reliable as time itself, and thus he becomes more or less of an institution in the circle.

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

STOCK MARKET AGAIN IS UP;

Standard Railroad Shares Reflect Good Buying at Week-End Session.

Cambria Steel Strong in Phila-

Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review

The exceptionally heavy buying which today converged on the railway shares, represented a spreading out both of professional and outside speculation. Apparently the case was that of a highly stimulated speculative appetite which was successfully directed to the standard investment stocks when the war civiler company speculation seemed to be growing insecure. The advances in the railway shares were not at all particularly striking, but they were largest in some of the highest grade issues-Pennsylvania stock, for instance, which for months has remained all but motionless in the market, rising nearly three points. But in all that group of stocks the salient fact was the great volume of trading, which made up for the market as a whole, the most active Saturday's business since the excited movement of last May.

"From some points of view, this diversion of speculative interest from industrial companies whose actual earning power is conjectural, to railways whose status is perfectly well known, was a gratifying change. But every one knows why the railway shares, with all the known improvements in the business, have not participated in the earlier rise. A movement of the present sort, especially if continued, is a very direct challenge to European holders of American securities to sell, if they care to do so. Perhaps they will not wish to sell; with individual holders, the mere sight of rising prices sometimes causes the wish to keep his holdings. Or perhaps, on the other hand, our market is ready to take up another mass of our own foreignheid securities. There would be somelogic in the process, seeing that the interesting.

"The weekly bank statement was probably influenced both by the Stock Exchange movement of the wask and hy chart of the process of the market."

while average milling value of the crop is materially lowered the amount actually unfit for any market use is not very greatly in excess of the usual percentage.

The Liverpol cable said: "There

tually unfit for any market use is not very greatly in excess of the usual percentage.

The Liverpol cable said: "There was a firm undertone in wheat today, with offers light as influenced by the strength in Winnipeg and America yesterday and traders became nervous. Spot market was irm, unchanged to 1d higher, with the cargo market strong. Millers continue anxious, with English country markets strong at 9d advance. Indian shipments are nothing and expectations are that the world's shipments will show a smaller percentage to the United Kingdom, and on passage quantities should show a liberal reduction. Corn was weak with liberal reduction. Corn was weak with liberal reduction. Corn was weak with liberal reduction. Liverpool—Spot wheat was unchanged to 1d higher; corn 4d lower; oats unchanged.

The foreign wheat situation by Broomhall said: "The delays in the movement of native wheat and the failure to receive Russian supplies, together with delayed American winters are serving to cause a hardening tendency in all importing centers.

"United Kingdom—Weather settled, with new wheat moving slowly and threshing delaped and prices strong." "France—Weather unsettled with reduction in both yield and quality being confirmed and new wheat offered sparingly.

"THE PRAIRIE WIFE." THE prairie wife was indoor-rai And searcely more than canary,

But ploneering never feazed She cast her lot with some grim Scot Who took her out of teas and bridges. And set her down 10 miles from town To view the Athabascan ridges.

Did this sweet lady view the scene And faint for thought of her surrender? Not much. She made the cabin clean

And proved the virtue of her gender She'd put her trust in this or bust, And made with love a world about her That beat for cost the one she'd lost And was considerably stouter.

The letters that this lady wrote Are such as one discovers gladly; They sound a deeper human note Than things we have gone in for In matters not where Love's sweet lot May find itself, it still makes Heaver For man and maid however strayed,

Those letters make the prairie bloom And set the winds to singing dittles; One thinks to shudder of the gloom Of loveless people in the cities. She cast her lot with that grim Scot In Love's uncertain speculation, And made his life with her, his wife,

A sort of frontier revelation

When life has that romantic leaven

"The Prairie Wife." by Arthur String

PRUDENCE OF THE PARSONAGE PRUDENCE of the Parsonage is the daughter of a Methodist preacher and the life that is described by Ethel Hueston is the life of a Methodist parsonage and the life of a Methodist family and congregation and community. Ethel Hueston writes of this life with Hueston writes of this life with authority because, as she reveals in her dedication, she was one of a par-sonage-full of rollicking young Meth-odists, to whose rearing her mother's fe was devoted.

The author has used to good advantage the exceptional opportunities for observation and study of certain types that a Methodist parsonage affords. She has given all of them friendly treatment, some of them more friendly treatment, per-hr.ps, than they deserved. The narrative has charm for persons who have had contact with the Methodist par-sonage life and the community life of which the parsonage is the cen-ter. The story is uncomplicated but bright and wholesome. (Bobbs-Mer-

WHAT A MAN WILLS. RS. GEORGE D HORNE VAI RS. GEORGE D HORNE VAI ZEY, an English writer, contributes an interesting sheaf of stories to the season's output in "What a Man Wills." The work is a series of short tales, but they are connected with an epilogue and a prologue. Nine young men and women at a New Year's eve house party tell their hostess what the utmost desire of their heart is—what they would like to have better than anything else in this world. Then the party separates and there follow nine separate stories, telling of the success or failure of the men and women in attaining their objects in life. The epilogue relates a gathering of the nine is years later.

The tales are all interesting. Mrs. Valzey writes with a vigorous directness.
There are no wasted words and no conrelevate to the season's output in "What a delicious by their efforts.

Through the tale runs a charming love story which culminates in the suprementary story which culm

scious effort at fine writing. Her sto-ries are unusually virile for a woman writer. The climaxes are especially well handled, there being an O. Henry OU can easily make boys happy by getting them acquainted with new friends in the shape of books.

They will surely like to follow "Tad sand His Father," by F. Lauriston Bul(Appleton.) lard. Tad is a son of Abraham Lincol and the father is the great Presiden who appeals to all boys: Another book which will appeal : boys is "The Scout Law in Practice. o help develop character in boys with reaching because it is akin to nagging and most boys have suffered from that. The book is written in language easily crasped by boys of the Boy Scout ages.

Something which boys as well as gir's will like is "Heroic Deeds of American

A GOOD many of Wait Mason's prose rhymes are so clever and full of timely wit that his admirers will be glad to know the beat of them have been put into a well-printed book, under the title of "Horse Sense." George Ade said that "Wait Mason is the high priest of horse sense." and that appears to have suggested the book's title. Also, Wait Mason has an effective command of slang and uses it without offense. And, the average reader who is familiar with Wait Mason may have come to the conclusion that he cannot write anything, however serious, without the aid of slang. Fer groof to the contrary, read the following, which is, to this reviewer's way of thinking, the gem of the "Horse Sense" colection. It is headed "The Old Prayer."

When the evening shadows fa'l, oftentimes do I recall other evenings, far away, when, aweary of my play, I would oilmb on granny's knee (long since gone to sleep has sha), clasp my hands and bow my head, while the simple lines I said: "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep." Journeyed long have I since then, in this sad, gray world of men: I have seen with aching heart, comrades to their rest gray world of men; I have seen with aching heart, comrades to their rest depart; friends have left me one by one, for the shores beyond the sun. Still the Youth, enraptured sings, and the world with gladness rings, but the faces I have known all are gone, and I'm alone. All alone, amid the throng, I, who've lived and lourneyed long. Loneliness and sighs and tears are the wages of the years. Whe would dread the journey's end, when he lives without a friend? Now the sun of life sinks low; in a little while I'll go where my friends and comrades wait for me by the jusper gate. Though the way be cold and stark, I shall murmur, in the dark, "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep." Me-Clurg & Co.) the Lord my soul to keep." Clurg & Co.)

A SOUTHERN ROMANCE.

DELIGHTFULLY told tale, simple in its plot, charming in its English, and masterful in its morals, is the story of "Old Wine in New Bottles," which comes from the pen of Sampel Tilden Larkins. The story preaches the gospel of the brotherhood of man. However, the lesson does not come from the pen of the author, but is learned from the works and deeds of kindliness of the several characters. kindliness of the several characters the story, and thus does not intrude
